

Crewmen Home For Holidays After Wreck

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Twenty-eight surviving crewmen from the storm-wrecked tanker Pine Ridge were at home with their loved ones today or on their way.

Only chief engineer John Richard, the 29th survivor, faced a not-so-merry Christmas as he remained aboard the stern section of the broken vessel at sea.

Seven of the Pine Ridge's crew were lost when the ship broke in two Wednesday night in heavy seas 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras. The other crewmen—except Richard—arrived here Friday aboard a destroyer.

On the stern section with Richard were four crewmen from the Commercial tug Curb, which is towing the stern to Newport News, Va. Another tug, the Lamberts Point, and the Coast Guard cutter Cherokee remained alongside. The towing job is expected to take about 48 hours.

The Coast Guard said it knows of no special provisions being put aboard the stern section to help the five men celebrate Christmas.

But the Pine Ridge's galley is part of what's left of the ship, and there should be plenty of food aboard.

Richard, 63, of Wilmington, Del., by sticking to his ship, is protecting the salvage rights of the owners, Paco Tankers, Inc., and the Keystone Shipping Co. of Philadelphia. A vessel abandoned on the high seas becomes the prize of the first to board her.

Some of the surviving seamen have made some bitter comments concerning the Pine Ridge's seaworthiness.

James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N. C., and I.H. Hulsey, of Corpus Christi, Tex., applied such terms as "rust bucket" and "unseaworthy" to the tanker, Robert Gill of Monterey, Mexico, said the Pine Ridge had cracked her port side on a previous voyage and had been patched up with concrete.

Shipping company spokesmen were not immediately available for comment.

A formal inquiry, beginning in Norfolk next Wednesday, will establish whether the wreck was due to any fault of the ship.

The 28 crewmen who set foot on shore Friday were cheered on their way home by quick payment of wages due from their ship company.

But eager as they were to get going, some paused to recount their experiences as the ship broke up under them.

There was general agreement that no panic ensued, but several readily admitted they were quite nervous until it became apparent the stern section was going to stay afloat.

Four Join Man Aboard Tanker

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Four crewmen from a commercial tug joined engineer John Richard aboard the stern section of the broken American tanker Pine Ridge today as a destroyer sped the 28 other survivors toward Norfolk.

The crewmen were placed aboard the tanker by small boats from the tug—a sharp contrast to the ticklish operation Thursday by which the 28 were lifted from the bobbing hulk by helicopter.

Richard, 63, of Wilmington, Del., remained aboard to protect the owner's salvage rights.

Coast Guard ships and planes resumed their search for the eight crewmen still missing from the Pine Ridge. Among them is the master, Capt. Clark Snyder, 44, of Havertown, Pa.

Three survivors of the broken tanker had volunteered to return to assist in towing operations but the ship's agents told them not to go aboard.

The ship's owner is the Keystone Shipping Co. of Philadelphia.

Survivors aboard the Conway were transferred from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge whose helicopters lifted them from the stern section.

The Pine Ridge was ripped apart Wednesday in gale winds that churned waters 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N.C.—that storied graveyard of the Atlantic. Should the engineer leave the Continued on Page Two

Cafe Owner Halts Sixth Burglary

MILLINGTON, Tenn. (AP)—A sharpshooting cafe owner, barefooted and clad only in underwear, dashed through 16 degrees cold today and routed four men he said were trying to burglarize his restaurant.

John T. Craig, 40, cracked down on one man and dropped him with a blast from his shotgun. Another blast apparently struck a second man but he fled with his companions in an automobile.

Craig's first victim, who was shot in one hand and both legs, identified himself as Vernon Bradford 21, of Steele, Mo. He was taken to a Memphis hospital prison ward. No charges had been placed today.

Craig said one of the men dropped a sack containing about $200 in coins which had been taken from the cafe's cigarette machine and a juke-box.

Craig, whose restaurant has been looted five times in the last five weeks, said he finally rigged up a burglar alarm extending from the cafe to his house nearby for Grand Larceny.

Russia Wants U. S. to Get Out of Laos

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union called on Britain today to join in an appeal to Washington to halt what it called the crude interference of the United States in Laos.

In a note to Britain, the Soviet Union requested revival of the 1954 Geneva control commission to consider the situation in Laos, Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference.

The note, broadcast by the Moscow radio, reiterated Soviet insistence that the fighting in Laos is caused by U.S. interference, although the Soviet Union has openly been flying arms to leftist forces fighting the pro-Western regime of Prince Boun Oum, the premier; and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

The United States has poured millions of dollars into Laos, especially military aid to defend its independence and to help wage the six-year-old war against the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas. This aid has continued since Phoumi's soldiers captured Vientiane, the capital, from leftist forces.

The note added that the Soviet government fully shares the concern of Prime Minister Nehru of India with developments in the Asian kingdom.

Nehru has suggested recalling a three-nation truce commission to try to halt civil war. Lord Home, British foreign secretary, announced earlier this week he had called Nehru's suggestion to the attention of Moscow.

The Soviet Union does not recognize Boun Oum and made this clear in its note. It referred to Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist premier, and his Cabinet as the lawful government of Laos. Phouma fled to Cambodia Dec. 9 at the height of the struggle between pro-Communist and anti-Communist forces.

Kennedy Using Caution About Unemployment

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is taking a cautious approach in deciding what the new administration will do about the business slump and unemployment.

He says there will be no decision regarding such controversial steps as tax cuts, and pump-priming public works spending, until after he has taken office Jan. 20.

Kennedy's go-slow policy on the problem was clear today as he slackened his work pace for the Christmas weekend and made ready to enjoy the holiday with his family at their ocean-front home.

Kennedy's only announced engagements during the day were with Rep. Abraham Miller, D-N. Y., and Peruvian Sen. Juan M. Pena Prado.

Kennedy headquarters said it had no advance information on the purpose of Miller's visit. He requested the appointment. Pena Prado is bringing a message from Peru's President Manuel Prado.

The president-elect probably will get in another round of golf in the afternoon and then turn tonight to a traditional and happy assignment of many an American father. He plans to help trim the Christmas tree, assisted by daughter Caroline, 3, and hang stockings at the mantle.

The newest member of the family is "far too young to lend a hand." But the latest bulletin on John Fitzgerald Jr., who will be one month old Christmas Day, is that he's doing fine. He's now weighing in at 7 pounds, 5 ounces — 1 pound and 2 ounces more than his birth weight.

And he is being showered with Christmas presents—toys, dolls, clothes—from all sections of the country.

Kennedy's caution on the business slump and unemployment of more than four million was pointed up as he announced Friday the appointment of Walter W. Heller, University of Minnesota economist and tax expert, as chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

First of all, Heller gave his version of the problem at a joint news conference with Kennedy. Heller said there has been a business recession the last six months and that the economy has been lagging for 3½ years.

He added that he wants to explore the idea of a tax program geared to reductions in times of business decline and increases as an anti-inflationary weapon.

But Kennedy kept his own counsel as to what his thinking is on remedial measures.

"I think I will wait until after Jan. 20," he said, "and at that time, shortly after that, we will be discussing the condition of the economy and what steps could be profitably taken to improve that position."

By then, he added, he expects to have in hand the recommendations of a study committee headed by Dr. Paul Samuelson of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This was Kennedy's answer when asked what he plans to do about what he last week called the lack of vigor in the nation's economy.

Wants Meet to Discuss Closed Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Saline Rep. Virgil T. Fletcher today asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to call a meeting of all parties concerned in the scheduled closing of Reynolds Metals Co.'s aluminum reduction plant near Arkadelphia.

Fletcher suggested the governor call in officials of Reynolds, the federal Southwestern Power Administration, Arkansas Power and Light Co., and Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co., to meet with community leaders.

"I think the entire state is concerned about this shutdown," Fletcher said. "And if the parties involved would sit down around a table with the governor and talk about it frankly, maybe something could be worked out."

Midlan Low Bid on Titan Base

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. Army Engineers say construction on the first phase of the Titan missile complex encircling Little Rock Air Force Base will begin soon after the holiday season.

A combine of four Southern contractors under the name of Midland Constructors of Columbus, Ga., Tuesday submitted an apparent low bid of $28,695,115 for work on the 18 underground launching sites.

There were five other bids.

The project is on a rush basis and Engineers said a decision on the bids would be reached within a few days.

Kennedy to Depend on Shrewdness

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The early moves of President-elect John F. Kennedy's new administration probably will revolve more around his shrewdness in handling Congress than on what he proposes to do about problems at home.

Overseas he'll have his hands full.

Judging from the starting program he intends to lay before Congress, where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans, he will neither suggest nor try anything startling.

The proposals he talks about were all part of the campaign promises he made. They didn't get through Congress last year.

For instance, medical care for the aged tied to Social Security. So he'll try again as he is pledged to.

If Southern Democrats and Republicans band together, they can mess him up. Some Republicans talk of such a coalition.

But it seems unlikely the Democratic-run House—where the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 260 to 177—will start off trying to frustrate Kennedy. It would be a sorry reception for their party's new leader.

In the Senate, where the Democrats are still in charge with a majority of 65 to 35 Republicans, Kennedy will have some real pro-working as his chief lieutenants: Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

It is important to both Johnson and Mansfield, who succeeds him as Democratic leader, to see the Kennedy administration get off to a good start. A defeat for Kennedy would be a personal defeat for them.

But it's in the foreign field that Kennedy and his administrators and advisors probably will feel they're walking through a dark jungle.

Besides trying to deal with the Russians and Premier Khrushchev, Kennedy must find some way to keep the people of Southeast Asia and Latin America on the U.S. side.

In Africa, both the people and their new nations are literally just coming alive as an active force in a world where for centuries they were kept in second-class citizen status as colonialists. That continent will be explosive for years.

The Kennedy administration somehow must find a way to convince the millions of Africans that their future will be better with the West.

Any critical showdown with the Soviet Union during Kennedy's administration may come first in Africa.

And even with American allies in Europe, Kennedy must keep the alliance not only alive but cooperative.

On top of all this, and yet critically related to it, Kennedy must subdue the flow of American gold overseas, keep trade healthy, and at the same time build American defenses to a point discouraging Soviet ambitions.

Kennedy is a young man. What he faces is enough to make an old man of him.

Never Mind What Calendar, Weathermen Say — This Is the Longest Night of the Year

By MARY ANITA LASETER

This is the longest night of the year.

Never mind what the weather men and calendar makers say about the longest night occurring on any other date.

Any child who has ever lain awake (with effort) straining to hear the jingle bells on the roof and a heavy "swish" down the chimney, both very sure sounds of Santa, knows that it takes longer for morning to arrive on Christmas Day than any other time of the year.

For simply ages (approximately two weeks) the tree has twinkled and packages with fancy bows have grown in a pile beneath it. But those presents don't really interest the eyes and ears that are waiting for the fat man with white whiskers and a red suit.

As anyone knows, Santa Claus never wraps up the gifts he brings because he knows how hard it is for little fingers to untie knots and unstuck tape. Besides, so many things are too hard to wrap, even for somebody like Santa.

Whoever heard of a packaged tricycle or a doll whose head is covered with paper? And how would whistles or crayons or nuts fit in a stocking if they were wrapped up?

Some might wonder how Santa Claus gets into houses or apartments that have no chimneys. That shouldn't bother anyone, for that jolly old man has more tricks up his sleeve than the best magician who ever waved a wand. Frankly, (and this is a secret I'm not supposed to tell) he has the largest set of keys in the whole world. It's easier and quicker for him to use a chimney entrance, but when none is available, he can enter another way—such as by the door as soon as he finds the right key.

Somehow this fellow from the North Pole never arrives at anyone's house until all boys and girls inside are fast asleep. So, there's really no need to try to stay awake. It won't do any good. Santa Claus and the sandman have been the closest of friends for years and years, and if you really want to know what happens, it's this:

The sandman is on guard at a child's house, and when he sees a certain red sleigh coming over the housetops, he waves a magic wand causing his potent sand to close every human eye in sleep.

Mothers never have to beg, plead, and coax boys and girls to get up on Christmas morning. It's the one time that they arise before the earliest set alarm clock. And no wonder! They've been asleep a long time.

Christmas Eve is the longest night of the year.

Construction of Bomb May Bring Attack

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has threatened Israel with a shooting war if it starts construction of an atomic bomb.

The United Arab Republic leader warned that "it means the beginning of war between us" if Israel's new atomic reactor in the Negev desert is used to build a nuclear weapon. He declared the U.A.R. would attack the "base of aggression."

Nasser, who often has asserted a constant state of war already exists between Israel and the U.A.R., spoke for two hours Friday night before cheering crowds commemorating the British and French troop withdrawal after the Suez war in 1956.

He charged "imperialist countries are paying the way to arm Israel with atomic weapons and then claim Israel produced them."

"If this happens," he said, "then we shall get atomic bombs no matter what the price. And if Israel can make atomic bombs, so can we."

Israel has denied the reactor being built near Beerseheba with French technical help is to produce A-bombs. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion maintained the reactor is for peaceful purposes only.

Reports that the reactor would be suitable for bomb production circulated earlier this week in Washington and London.

Israel assured Washington it is not trying to join the nuclear weapons club, and the United States expressed the hope Israel's Arab neighbors would accept the assurances.

Recommends A&O Railway Abandonment

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended today that the Arkansas & Ozarks railway be permitted to abandon its entire line in Arkansas and Missouri, a total of 70 miles.

The recommendation will become effective in 30 days unless exceptions are filed with the commission.

Examiner Jerome K. Lytle recommended the company be permitted to abandon its main line between Harrison, Ark., and Seligman, Mo., a distance of 5 miles; a 3-mile branch line between Freeman and Berryville, Ark.; a 2-mile branch line from the main line in Carroll County, Ark., to Eureka Springs, Ark.

The Arkansas Commerce Commission, northwest Arkansas cities and various shippers opposed the application.

The company said no passenger service was provided on the line and that a freight train used to operate three times a week in each direction between Seligman and Harrison.

However, floods in May caused track and bridge damage. The company said it did not have the funds to repair the washouts in the Leatherwood Creek area and it was necessary to cease virtual operations.

It contended that in recent years business has declined and that because of poor financial condition and expenditures necessary to restore the line to safe operating condition it would not be feasible to resume service.

"The examiner said there are no indications that revenue, if operations were resumed, would be sufficient to offset losses, pay the cost of track relocation in the Table Rock Reservoir area,"

Cuban Paper Out

HAVANA (AP)—The governing board of information, the last independently owned newspaper in Cuba, announced its closure with today's edition. The announcement gave no reason.

It is known, however, that information has been under pressure not to print material critical of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

decks, the hulk becomes fair salvage prize for anyone during enough to board it. In the past two years two ships in American waters have been salvaged by wildcat crews, one not far from the stricken Pine Ridge and the other off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Valley Forge was in position to launch its first helicopter by 6:45 a. m. Thursday and completed the hazardous job by 4 p. m.

One by one the helicopters hovered into position over the bobbing stern to scoop up the waiting seamen. One of the pilots, Lt. (j.g.) John D. Hausman of Monroe, Mich., said it was treacherous work keeping the "copters" free of the whiplash of the stern as 10-foot waves swept it rapidly up and down.

Everett Bell of Jacksonville, Florida, assistant third engineer appeared to be the only survivor seriously hurt. He had severe cuts on his right upper arm. He and several others with lesser injuries were all reported in good condition.

Oiler James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N. C., who was on the stern of the tanker when it began to break up, said he was eating chow.

"It happened so fast we thought the screw (the propeller) was off," he said. "I ran right down and got a life jacket. We got the lights on," he said.

Lewis said he didn't see any crewmen on the bow before it drifted away.

The injured Bell said the breakup of the tanker came after a terrific roll of the ship.

Soviet Court Okays Budget

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet today approved unanimously the Soviet Union's record peacetime budget for 1961.

Ignati Novikov, minister of power station construction, told today's session the capacity of new power plants is almost three times greater than anticipated in the Kremlin's 15-year electrification plan.

Sergei Kurashov, minister of health, said the Soviet Union will have 420,000 doctors in 1961—one for every 520 persons.

Italy Hosts 16.8 Million Tourists

ROME (AP)—With the Olympics an added attraction, Italy played host to 16.8 million tourists including 875,000 Americans in the first 10 months of 1964—a million more than in the same period last year. Germans—4.5 million of them—were the biggest contingent.

MacArthur Raps Truman Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says that Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted to A-bomb China and eastern Siberia during the Korean conflict. MacArthur terms Truman's assertion "completely false."

Both men are in New York. MacArthur resides here and Truman arrived Wednesday to spend the holidays with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Daniel.

An official at the hotel where the former president is staying said Truman would accept no calls until morning.

The controversy was touched off by Truman during a television interview last Saturday night in Chicago. The transcript of the interview became available Thursday.

Irv Kupcinet, a Sun-Times reporter, moderator of the program, had asked Truman if, when he was president, he had been under pressure to unleash the atomic bomb during the Korean War.

He said Truman replied: "Yes, MacArthur wanted to do just that. He wanted to bomb China and eastern Russia and everything else."

MacArthur issued a statement Thursday night denying this.

"Any statement such as that attributed to Mr. Truman that I advocated the use of atomic bombs in the Korean War is completely false," MacArthur said.

"The records are available and will show that atom bombing in the Korean War was never discussed either by my headquarters or in any communication to or from Washington."

"The allegation that I contemplated or even considered action against Siberia or areas not directly within the field of operations is equally fantastic."

"We did not need the atom bomb here any more than we did in the war against Japan," added the former supreme commander of Allied forces in the South Pacific.

Truman relapsed MacArthur of his Far East post in 1951.

Truman told Kupcinet: "I recalled him (MacArthur) for disobedience of orders. He was in private contact with the Republican minority leader in the House of Representatives, Joe Martin (of Massachusetts) and had been warned that the commander in chief was still the commander in chief."

"MacArthur was just another general as far as I was concerned."

Commented MacArthur: "It is equally untrue to say I disobeyed any orders. The members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, my superiors in the conduct of the Korean War, testified under oath at the congressional hearings that there was no insubordination or disobedience of orders on my part."

MacArthur continued: "Our failure to win the Korean War was a major disaster for the free world."

"It is with deep reluctance I continue this controversial dispute of the long past when the world is now desperately beset with momentous troubles, and I do so only to prevent a complete prevarication of history designed to cover up Mr. Truman's past failures."

In the television interview, Kupcinet asked Truman if he meant MacArthur wanted "to use the atomic bomb."

Truman: "Why, of course, that's the only weapon we had they would understand."

Kupcinet: "This was one of the main reasons you recalled him?"

Truman: "I recalled him for disobedience of orders."

Income Tax at a New Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—More tax payers paid more income taxes on more 1960 earnings than ever before, the Internal Revenue Service reports.

IRS says these preliminary figures Thursday for individual 1960 income tax returns: The number of returns went up to 0.5 million, from 58.1 million in 1959. Reported gross income increased to $385.9 billion from $361.2 billion. Taxes paid went to $38.9 billion from $34.3 billion.

The average income was reported as $6,070, but not everyone filing a return had a large enough income to be taxed. Of the 47.5 million returns liable to tax, the average payment was $820.

Arkansans Figure in Several Jobs

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although Sen. J. William Fulbright has been eliminated from the cabinet picture, several other sons of Arkansas figure prominently these days in speculation for various high federal jobs.

These include Lloyd Godley, Osceola, for a post in Agriculture; Harold Jinks, Piggott, for an assistant postmaster general spot; and Clyde Ellis, possibly in Interior.

There also has been some agitation in behalf of Ed Putnam, Fort Smith, for a job in the Post Office Department, and for Dr. Lex Moore, Harrison, for some foreign service post.

Ellis, former Representative from Northwestern Arkansas and now head of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, got strong support for Secretary of Interior, a job which went to Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz.

Ellis' supporters then boomed him for the job as under secretary. He still appears to be in the picture although his friends aren't too hopeful.

Ellis has said that would be about the only other post he would be interested in although there's been suggestions that the job of assistant secretary for power in the Interior Department might be available.

Godley, Democratic National Committee representative for agriculture in several Southern states, was boosted by some of his Arkansas friends for secretary of agriculture. President-elect Kennedy picked Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota for the post.

Support then developed for Godley as an under secretary or assistant secretary of agriculture.

Godley is regarded as an expert on the matter of farm credit.

Jinks is regarded as having a good prospect at some post office department spot, due to his past experience and because of his strategic spot in the Democratic party.

The post he seeks, Arkansans say, is that of assistant postmaster general in charge of transportation.

Jinks for many years was postmaster at Piggott. In recent years he has been Southern regional representative for the Democratic National Committee. He was an early Kennedy supporter.

Thus his chances have to be rated good.

Davis Duty, of Rogers, is reported seeking a spot as an assistant U.S. district attorney for western Arkansas. This spot, however, might not be filled for a time, at least not until after a district attorney has been named.

Duty, who is blind, is a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

A few years ago he figured in the news when he attempted to take his seeing eye dog to England with him while he studied under a Fulbright scholarship.

England, because of a tight quarantine against animal diseases was reluctant to allow the dog to enter but after considerable effort by Sen. Fulbright agreed to permit the dog into the country provided it was quarantined for several months.

Other students aided Duty around London during those months and he visited the dog

Experts Probing Train Accidents

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—Two experts are investigating the train explosion that shook central Arkansas and caused injuries to nearly a score of persons last Saturday.

One of the two is H. T. Rittman, of New York, chairman of the Traffic and Storage Conditions Committee of the Institute of Makers of Explosives. He said his organization is directly concerned with the avoidance of explosive-caused accidents.

Chicago's first permanent school was built of brick and the first city offices were in a brick building. He was accompanied by Clyde O. Davis, director of the Eastern research laboratory for DuPont Chemical Co.

The explosion wrecked a Missouri Pacific freight train at near-by Traskwood. No one was hurt seriously.

Rittman said he and his associates wanted to determine what caused the explosion. An early report said the explosive was ammonium nitrate, a liquid fertilizer, but this hasn't been officially confirmed.

He was accompanied by Clyde O. Davis, director of the Eastern research laboratory for DuPont Chemical Co.

This is the wish we send you way!
May yours be a Merry Holiday —
And we also extend a big "thank you" for your patronage.

Porkers Put on a High Scoring Spree

By WICK TEMPLE
LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Clyde Rhoden picked the wrong time to get hurt.

The Arkansas senior guard was second high scorer in the Southwest Conference last year. A sprained ankle has kept him out of much of the Razorbacks' early basketball this season, and while he's been on the bench, the other porkers have been going hog wild. If you'll pardon the pun.

Thursday night, for instance, the five starters all scored 14 points or more in beating Tennessee in the Aluminum Bowl. Sophomore Tommy Boyer, who replaced Rhoden when he was injured in the North Texas game, Dec. 17.

Now which of those five is going to go benchward when Rhoden is ready for full-time duty?

Certainly all five won't beat out Clyde, who is considered one of the league's finest players. But Coach Glen Rice has the sweetest task of having to bench a good man to run another good one into the lineup.

Earl Quigley, the veteran coach who recently was elected to the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame, is also one of the promoters of the Aluminum Bowl.

Like the others, Quigley was chagrined at the poor crowds that too surprised. "It came at a bad time," he said. "All the men are working every spare minute and the ladies are wrapping packages."

Quigley added that the fact that it wasn't a tournament hurt the Classic's crowds. Fans like to see somebody playing for something.

He and the other promoters hope for the best, but right now the Classic's future appears dim. So, for that matter, does Arkansas' basketball future in Little Rock. The Hogs might have scheduled a conference game here next year if the Classic had gone over.

Al Almanza, Texas' 6-8 forward who made the Classic's all-star team, must feel a little funny when he has to look up to teammate Wayne Clark.

They trotted onto the court talking and Almanza looked up at the 6-11 Clark like anybody else.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

THE STORY: Bart Wagner has received several reminders that there is no law in the Panhandle. The country is overrun by outlaws. One of the leaders is Xenophon Jones.

Bart picked up the hammer and staples. "You're trespassing on Lewis land," he said.

"Listen, Wagner!" Jones's voice was harsh. "I need help. This court session has got to be scared off."

"Are you afraid of courts?" Jones shrugged. "The longer we keep the courts out of the Panhandle, the better will be the pickings."

Bart said, "You can't keep them out forever."

"I'm going to throw the fear of the Lord into anybody who might be qualified as a juror, so they won't dare to convict. They've got two of my men down there, and I don't aim for them to hang."

Bart said, "I've got a lot of work to do."

"Old Ben Lewis and the girl have made an issue of it," Jones said, "and I've got to make an example of them. Otherwise all the Panhandle will start acting smart and giving me trouble."

"You killed Ben. Why don't you kill her?" Jones moistened his lips. "I don't like to kill a woman. Maybe that's the Virginia gentleman's blood in me. I just want to burn the place without hurting her—and I want you to help by keeping her away from that buffalo gun."

"I'll have no part in it," Jones said coldly. "You want me to turn you in to Captain Arrington?"

"The Texas Rangers are not involved in this," said Bart.

Jones said harshly, "The Rangers do favors for New Mexican sheriffs because they get favors in return—especially in the Panhandle, so far from Texas courts."

"I never scared easy," "All right," said Jones, sounding disgusted. "I'll give you 1,000 to keep her out of the picture until my men set fire to the place."

Bart said nothing.

"All right," said Jones. "It's a deal. Some night before court opens at Clarendon we'll hit the house about midnight. You've been sleeping in the shed. When you hear us coming, get in there and take the rifle away from her. As soon as the house is fired, I'll drop the money on the old man's grave. All you have to do is pick it up and ride on."

Bart hefted the hammer in his hand.

"You'll need money to keep on the scout," Jones said. "A man like you has got to have money. If Arrington starts after you, you'll have to get out of the country fast."

Bart could not help thinking for he had less than a dollar to his name. "What happens to the girl?"

Jones laughed. "Don't worry about her. Murphy and I have been playing monte for two weeks to see who gets her."

Bart looked at the evilly handsome face and suddenly was filled with revulsion. The frontier was no place for niceties, and yet there were some things—he hit Jones on the jaw and a second time on the nose.

And this note on Tommy Boyer, Arkansas' flashy sophomore: Jim Delay of Little Rock, who was a few grades ahead of Boyer in school at Fort Smith, says: "We never used to let him play basketball with us when we were kids. He was too little. Couldn't get it up to the basket. I guess he showed up."

CHAPTER XII
Jones's evil eyes blazed as he came to the attack. Bart gave ground slowly, watching for an opening, but Jones knew how to use his hands. He caught Bart high on the cheekbone and rocked him for a moment. Then Bart

Man Rescued From a Cistern Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A man who spent 20 hours entombed in a caved-in cistern before his rescue, died at a hospital here today.

Harry Miller, 44, a Negro, was freed from tons of wet sand by rescue workers who risked their lives digging him out near Holly Springs, Miss., last week.

Doctors would say only that he had a relapse.

The rescue teams angled a narrow trench into the 20 ft. deep hole, where Miller was trapped and finally pulled him free.

Uses Finger for a Gun Successfully

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Jesus Gonzales, 60, watchman for a dry cleaning plant, spotted an intruder slipping through a window.

Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God...

...and Happy Birthday, to our Lord. It is traditional but more significant than any birthday in human history. There is more to Christmas than tinsel and glittering gifts. On that day, the word of God became flesh and dwelt among us. Love literally came down at Christmas... a new birth to cheer and redeem. It is the birthday of the greatest teacher — the sublimest preacher — the "Good Shepherd," the "Son of God," the "Saviour of Men." Then, let us not disgrace this Holy Day, Christ's Birthday, through sinful celebration or 'cheap' living. Happy Birthday, Jesus!
